

Appalachian Laboratory

Building Emergencies

There are various mechanical and electrical emergencies that can occur throughout the building.

The laboratories are clearly marked with emergency telephone numbers if alarms are sounding or other problems are occurring.

If you find a building emergency such as fire/water break/etc., go to the nearest fire pull station and activate OR utilize the closest blue light station only IF SAFE. If the situation puts you in danger, immediately leave the building and activate a blue light station outside OR call 911 from a phone outside the building.

If the emergency is one that isn't critical or life threatening, call John Piasecki 301-707-1355 or Heather Johnson 301-268-4483 – these would be alarms sounding or small water leaks.

If the preservation of life and building is in your hands, time is of the essence, call 911 immediately or 301-687-4222 (FSU Campus Police)!